Join the Laboratory to Combat Human Trafficking in collaboration with American Medical Response for a training on how human trafficking is impacting our state and region. This training will explore root causes of trafficking and the myriad of intersecting identities, vulnerabilities, and social and systemic inequalities that can lead to trafficking. Understanding root causes and complex trauma is key to recognizing the crime in its many forms. Learn how the experiences of people with healthcare and mental health needs may intersect with the trafficking experience and how first responders, hospitals and providers can be involved in the response.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND:

- First responders, EMTs, Fire & Rescue
- Any and all staff including administration
- Community partners
- Volunteers

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN:

- How to identify human trafficking and potential victims (and mandatory reporting requirements)
- How communities across Colorado and the Rocky Mountain Region are responding to human trafficking
- How to connect to local anti-trafficking and survivor support resources
- Guidance on developing survivor-centered protocols

The Laboratory to Combat Human Trafficking (combathumantrafficking.org) is a leader in Colorado's anti-trafficking movement. Since 2005, we have trained over 55,000 professionals and community members; conducted research to drive action and inform policy change; operated the statewide 24/7 human trafficking hotline; and developed over 195 future human rights leaders.
